BROOKLYN, 6; CINCINNATI, 5.

The Cincinnatis lost a heart-breaker at Washington Park yesterday afternoon. With their celebrated leit-handed pitcher, 'Noodles' Hahn, in the box, they thought they had an excellent obance to beat the champion Brooklyns, and they probably would have done so if old Lady Fortune hadn't grinned all over whenever the pennant winners needed such heir. The Cincinnatis outbatted the Brooklyns, is hits to 8, and also outfletled them, one error to three. But one of Brooklyn's hits—a clean home run by Keeler—and one of Cincinnatia errors—a muffled third strike by Catcher Wood—did the business. Kitson was hit freely, but with men on bases he was fortunate in receiving magnificent support. In all, ten Cincinnati baserunners were left, while but two of Brooklyn's baserunners failed to get around. That tells part of the story which the $,000 cranks who saw the battle are probably telling to their nelabors this morning.

In the first inning Jones made one of the most wonderful running catches ever seen on the grounds. Corcoran hammered the ball to centre, seemingly for a home run. Jones turned his back to the ball and while running toward the fence he pulled it down with the tips of his fingers. The crowd cheered Jones all the way to the bench and also applauded him every time he came to the bat afterward. Jones made another sensational catch off Crawford in the second which cut off a possible dou le, while Sheckard and Ke ler also captured hard smashes in dashing style. This goes to show how hard Kit on was batted.

The Brooklyns made all of their hits count. In the second inning, with two out, Daly singled and soored the first run of the game on McGuire's cracking three-bagger to left. Barrett open his morning that the first run of the game on McGuire's cracking three-bagger to left. Barrett open his made allow the his count in the seventh by getting around on a double-bagger and beckley's sharp single to left. Hahn in the meantime had the Champions guessing, and the crowd gradually saw that there was trouble ahead. This p winning run. He crossed the plate before McGuire was half way to first, so the latter stopped. The Cincinnatiplaters threw up their hands and Catcher Wood looked ready to sink into the ground. Then Old Lady Fortune hid her grinning face behind a cloudbank. The Ball playing without kicking was the order of things at the Polo Grounds yesterday afternoon. The St. Louis players, who made things lively for Umpire Terry in the two previous games, decided to play clean ball, with the result that the New York teil-enders had to bite the dust. It was understood that Doheny was put in to pitch for New York on condition that he must show wijnning form or receive his walking papers. 1: is not at all improbable that he will be allowed to go in view of his work, for after pitching good ball he went up in the air in the last two innings, and helped St. Louis to win. Doheny was ably assisted by Hickman and Foster, both of whom made errors of the yellow kind.

Powell, who started in to pitch for the St. Louis team, was in good form, but in the second inning he stopped a hard-hit liner from Smith's bat and hurt his ritching hand. This seemed to annoy him, and as it was swelling he retired in favor of Weyhing, who had the local leam at his mercy. The Tail-enders had the better of the game by one run up to the rixth inning, when the St. Louis players tied the score. Three singles in succession and a force hit in the first inning gave St. Louis two runs. In the sixth inning a base on balls to Donovan, a hit by Wallace and McGann's out gave them another. Two runs were scored in the eighth inning on Donovan's second base on balls, hits by Wallace and Dillard and Robinson's out.

In the ninth inning McGann so this base on an error by Foster, secring Burkett. Wallace filed Out of Foster, keister scoring. McGann hit to centre, scoring Donovan.

New York scored one run in the second on Poster's single and Hickman's three-larger. In the second inning another was made on a hit by Van Haltren and Doyle gave New York the third and last tally in the fifth. The score:

KENNEDY BEATEN BY "FARMERS." Brooklyn Pitcher, in the Box for Mystle Shriners, Gets Rattled at Patchogue.

PATCHOGUE, N. Y., July 21.-"Roaring Bill" Kennedy, pitcher of the Brooklyn National League baseball team, and 4,200 Mystic Shriners from Kismet Temple of Brooklyn were unable to defeat a hayseed baseball team here to-day. It was the occasion of the annual outing of Kismet Temple, with the tall game as the principal issue. The visitors intended to mystify the Patchogue ball tossers, and Kennedy was named on the score card as Goodrich. Kennedy pitched a good game until the last inning, when he got rattled. The score was 5 to 2 in favor of Kismet when the home team batted in five runs after two men were out.

The Ki met boys were filled to overflowing when the home team's last crack at the ball came, and were celebrating their supposed victory, which, however, was shortly turned to defeat when Norton hit out for a home run. A three-base hit, four singles, two wild pitches and innumerable errors helped add to the home team's score. The Poe brothers, who were the battery for the local team, were dubted the "farmer battery" by the Shriners, but the "larmers" struck out ten men, a much better record than that of Kenned. Four of the runs made by Kismet were due to lackcusable errors. The Shriners quietly got out of town on their special train just as soon as possible. The score was 7 to 5 in favor of Patchogue.

Posentate Campbell was in charge of the Shriners and they put in a jolly day. Upon the rarival they were met by a committee of Patchogue Shriners and escorted to the Mascot headquarters for the day. Pre-jous to dinner a sail to Water Island was had and those who Kennedy pitched a good game until the last inn-

Patchogue Shriners and escorted to the Mascotheadquarters for the day. Precious to dinner a sail to Water Island was had and those who did not sail bathed or fisned. Four members of Bommi Temple of I altimore were guests of the Brooklynites. On the return trip the slogan set forth in the circular announcing the trip, "Sometimes they play ball and then again they didn't," was fired with strong emphasis upon the last part at the representative ball tossers, The party arrived in Brooklyn about 16 o'clock. Col. Alexander S. Bacon was in the party.

Amateurs Hammer Dunn. HEMPSTEAD, July 21 .- Jack Dunn, Brooklyn's pitcher, was farmed out to Freeport to-day and played against the Hempsteads in the series for the South Stde League championship.

The Hempstead boys had no trouble in hitting Dunn; in fact he only struck out one man during the nine innings. The score:

There appears to be a conspiracy to squelch Umpire Timothy Hurst, When he was elected to the League umpire staff last spring by the magnates themselves, he was promptly barred from the grounds of the Cincinnati and New York clubs. Then Pittsburg and Philadelphia got in line with edicta and now the Brooklyn Club has closed its gates to Sir Timothy, Hurst can only umpire on the Boston, Chicago and St. Louis grounds, and he's one of the best umpires in the country at that. Possibly his fearlessness has had something to do with the ban placed upon him. Wasn't this the real cause of Umpire Lynch's banishment?

Haverford Easily Defeated by Harrow's Crack Eleven. HARROW-ON-THE-HILL England July 21 -The Haverford College cricketers played the noted Harrow eleven here to-day, and had to submit to the superior prowess of their aristocratic opponents. The Americans, however, made a vast improvement on the result of their game which was played here four years are, for while they then suffered defeat by the tremendous margin of one inning and 116 runs, after Har-row had declared its inning closed with only four wickets down, the margin to-day was four wickets down, the margin to-day was 147 runs.

The weather for the game to-day was perfect and a large crowd was present to see the contest. Haverford batted first and from the manner in which the inning began it looked as though the visitors were in for a big score. W. S. Hinchman and F. C. Sharpless were the opening pair and before the first wicket fell 50 went up. Both men played good and careful cricket, and Hinchman rolled up 25 before he was bowled by Kaye, while Sharpless had scored 35 when he was caught at mid-off. W. W. Justice also made a good stand, while C. J. Allen appeared to be getting nicely set when he was run out. The inning was over for a total of 129.

was run out. The inning was over for a total of 129.

G. Cookson and E. W. Mann started the batting for Harrow, and before they were separated the match was won. Haverford tried all her bowlers in vain, for the pair played grand cricket. Man secured a century, while Cookson made 89. After the partnership was dissolved the rest was comparatively easy, for no one else gave much trouble except C. Bewicke, who scored 22. The score:

The Nelson Lodge Cricket Club played its association championship match with the Manhattan second eleven yesterday at Prospect Park and had the satisfaction of winning its first match in the series. The game was closely contraited and at one time proved quite excling. Vigorous hitting by R. W. Powell at the right time saved the game for Nelson Lodge, while the bowling of E. A. Skyne, who captured five wickets for twenty-five runs, was a decided factor in the result. The totals were: Manhattan IL. 45; Nelson Lodge, 48 for seven wickets.

The Antilees Club opposed an eleven of the Brook.

Reison Lodge, 45 for seven wickets.

The Antilees Club opposed an eleven of the Brooklyns at Prospect Park. A well-contested match resuited and Brooklyn won by the narrow margin of 5 runs. F. Romeo secured top score of the game with a hard-hit innings of 24 for the Antilees men, while
C. Gittens, J. Tyrrill and E. Challenger all batted well for Brooklyn. The totals were: Antilees C. C.,

The Brooklyn club expected to play an association match with Kearny at Prospect Park. The Kearny men failed to materialize, however, and Brooklyn claimed the game by forfeit. The Brooklyns got out in the field, and for some unknown reason bowled a ball at an imaginary opponent and had the umptre award the game to them.

The deceased pital, Brooklyn, on Friday night. The deceased canoeman deed of typhoid fever. Mr. Mowbray was fill but a fortnight. He was one of the best known figures in American canoeing annals and was always a central figure in the open competitions of his own and other canoe clubs. At the last year's meet of the American Canoe Association at Thousand Islands Mr. Mowbray won three prizes against the pick of the entire continent. He made a trip around the world about a year ago, coming home by way of the Orient and the Philippines, and planting the New York Canoe Club and the American flag ad along the rout. His place will be hard to fill and the New York Canoe Club in particular, and American canoeing interests in general have suffered a great loss.

Scullers of the Clifton Boat Club Win.

STAPLETON, July 21.-The feature of the annual regatta of the Clifton Boat Club this afternoon, off the boathouse at Clifton, was a match four-oared shell race between crews of the Clifton and Staten Island boat of the Citton and Staten Island boat clubs. The race was over a one-mile course and the Clifton Club won easly. At the crack of the pistol the crews took the water together, but the Cliftons quickly led, and were three lengths ahe d at the three-quarter mile mark, where the Staten Island men stoi ped rowing. The steering gear of the boat broke, but it was admitted by Capt. Cochran of that crew that they were being outrowed at the time. The crews were:

PRINCE OF MELBOURNE ADDS THE SEAGATE TO HIS SCALP BELT. Handwork Enjoys a Practical Walkover in the Undergraduate Stakes at Brighton

Beach - Neck Finish for Handicap - Dec-imated Steeplechase Ends in a Dead Heat. Ideal half-holiday weather and a fairly good ard helped to make Brighton Beach race-It was a rather cheerless outing, however, for ollowers of favorites as only two of the "good things" came off and one of these was at prohibitive odds. Jockey Maher was still an absentee from the saddle owing to his fall off Harry Reed earlier in the week and McCue improved the opportunity of climbing up in the percentage table by piloting two winners, one second and one third out of five races Turner accepted only two mounts and brought both home while Spencer caught the judges eye once and was twice second out of only three engagements.

The richest and most important event of the day was the Seagate, a stake worth $3,000, for three-year-olds at one mile and a quarter. Wooster Boy was reserved for a later race, but W. M. Barrick added his Esher colt, Lew Kraft, whose chances looked so good at 111 pounds that he was made a strong third choice. Prince of Melbourne ruled favorite, and Brigadier closed next in demand. The added starter made things hum for about a mile with Brigadier in hot pursuit and Motley also close up.
Turning for the long homestretch, Prince of Melbourne made his bid and rushed through the bunch in irresistible fashion. Brigadier still olung doggedly to second position, but failed to do any better, and the favorite beat him by half a length. David Garrick sulked nost of the way, but scrambled in third, three engths behind the Belmont candidate and bare neck in front of Motley. The time was exceptionally fast, although some fractions outside of the mark set up by Jack Point on July 7. The Brighton Handicap winner had only 100 pounds up, while Frank D. Beard's champion shouldered the full stake limit of 126 pounds. solved itself into one of the depressing traves-ties on the sport of Kings that are becoming all too frequent owing to the waiting policy of owners. Out of the fifty-eight eligibles, five were named on the card and two were withdrawn. C. F. Dwyer added Ethics, but he failed to make the outlook any more interesting as Handwork, at 2 to 5, ran away from the others at will and won in an open gallop by three lengths.

Alsike won the opening race at a mile after a spirited struggle with Autumn, whom he beat a neck. Survivor, the favorite, finished an a neck. Survivor, the favorite, finished an unsatisfactory fifth amid general grumbling. Alsike was entered to be sold for $1,000. Mike Clancy boosted him a few hundreds and then J. Gardner chipped in with a bid of $1,000, which secured the horse. With Heliobas and Firearm out of the handicap for spirinters, Sanders looked to be the logical choice, but he was ignored in favor of Waring, Stuart, Mechanus and Mayor Giroy. Waring closed at the shortest price and made a gallant effort to land the money, but after leading almost to the wire Sanders and Mechanus closed on him with a rush. The three finished necks apart with Sanders in front.

It was little short of a miracle that no serious fatalities resulted during the cowboy struggle of fourteen horses over the short steeplechase course.

The race was a highly sepastional affair as of fourteen horses over the short steeplechase course.

The race was a highly sensational affair as a spectacle, but one of the most pitiable specimens of racing 'between the flags' that has yet been presented. Five horses fell, including the favorite, Charagrace, who came an awful cropper at the first fence past the stand. Jockey Barry was removed in a limp condition, but revived under treatment.

It is said that he ignored stable orders and that he had only himself to blame for the fall. Old Tank made most of the running, but Finnegan, after cutting some intricate skating figures with Perion, brought the Gebhard horse up in time to make it a dead heat. Gen. Mart Gary won the closing race by a head after a prolonged struggle with the outsider, Bettie Gray. Summary:

LOOKOUT'S CHALLENGE CUP. Noted 21-Footer Wins the Trophy for the Third Time off Quincy. QUINCY, Mass., July 21.-After successfully defending the Quincy Yacht Club's challenge cup for 21-footers two years in succession not many members of the club were disappointed at seeing the Lookout, owned by A. Henry Higginson of the Manchester Yacht Club, win to-day's race, which gave to the Lookout the three wins necessary for her owner to become he possessor of the trophy until some other yachtsman builds a boat capable of wresting it from him. The Lookout gave the Hostess a fair beating in a reefing breeze and Mr. Faxon had no complaint to make. The winner is nothing no complaint to make. The winner is nothing more than an enlarged Hostess, which up to now has proved the speedlest craft of her inches in Massachusetts Bay.

The Pompano repeated her performance yesterday by capsizing. She was in last position and when gybing around one of the turning buoys wen over quickly. The other challenger, the Tashmoo, which was torn to pieces in yesterday's blow, was stripped by her owner and presented to an inmate of the Sailors' Snug Harbor at Germantown.

The course sailed to-day was triangular, twice around, distance twelve knots. The first two legs were reaches and the last a dead beat to windward. The first time around the Look-out led by 2 minutes and 32 seconds over the Hostess, which was 2 minutes and 16 seconds ahead of the Pompano. The Lookout finished 3 minutes and 32 seconds in the lead. Her elabsed time was 138-94. Mr. Higginson, who is President of the Yacht Racing Association, will defend the cup against all comers next year. A member of any yacht club in the country can challenge for the cup.

Tacht Racing at Newport and Larchmon

This Week. The scene of yacht racing this week will be divided between Larchmont and Newport. At Newport the 70 and 30-footers will compete on alternate days, and the contests, which are always very close in these classes, promise to be more exciting than ever before. The series of aces arranged to be sailed at Newport will end this week until after the New York Yacht Club cruise and then they will be resumed.

sort every day. The Larchmont week began yesterday with an open regatta for all classes and the first of a series of races for raceabouts. The Larchmont yachtsmen had arranged a series of contests for the new 70-footers, but owing to the racing at Newport they will not be sailed. It is probable, however, that the Larchmont Club will have some racing for the new class in August or early in September. The struggle between the raceabouts will last until next Saturday, the yachts of this class racing every day except on Tuesday. To-morrow there will be a race for schooners in cruising trim, in one class: a race for schooners in classes D and F, in racing trim; a race for classes I and K and for raceabouts. In class I there will be the Astriid, Isoide and possibly the Queen Mab. These are three English yachts and they should furnish interesting sport. In class K are the Altair, Shark, Syce and Hussar II. On Tuesday there will be water sports in the afternoon and a ball in the clubhouse in the evening. The clubhouse and grounds will be fill minimated on this occasion. The sports in the, afternoon will be races for the Hen and Chickens, Dauntless and Execution colors. These races are for four-oared, two-oared girs and dingies. There will be two races for naphtha launches and tub races and water sports.

The second open regatta for all classes will be sailed on Wednesday, and in the evening there will be a minstrel show in the clubhouse. On and the first of a series of races for raceabouts.

The second open regatta for all classes will be sailed on Wednesday, and in the evening there will be a minstrel show in the clubhouse. On Thursday the racing will be in classes I, K and L of sloops, raceabouts and cabin catboats. The Larchmont Lecture Bureau will furnish the entertainment in the evening. The programme for Friday will be a race for schooners of classes B, C and D, in racing trim; schooners classes C and D, cruising trim; classes K and M of sloops and raceabouts. In the evening there will be a dramatic entertainment and two original plays will be presented. On Saturday there will be an open regatta for all classes.

A New Boat Launched to Beat the Wanda. PATCHOGUE, July 21 .- There was launched here orable single sticker. The boat, which was sent into he water from Gilbert Smith's shipyard, is for Southard Bros. of the Hempstead Bay Yacht Club of Pree-port. The boat is something of a freak and was built and designed expressly to defeat the crack Wanda, owned by the Hon. Regis H. Post. The Wanda is now owned by the Hon. Regis H. Post. The Wanda is now owned by John R. Suydam of Bayport. The new boat, which was chilstened Regina, has many odd icetures in a single siloter even in these days of freak construction. She is 35 feet over all, a feet beam and draws 2 feet 6 inches of water on her load water line. Her rigging and construction is extremely light and she is expected to equal the record of the Southard Bros', other boat, the Beulah, which has forty victories and no defeats up to the present time. The Regina is expected to prove one of the fastest boats ever seen in the Great South Bay. She will fly in addition to her owner's burgee the signals of the Penataquit-Corinthian Yachi Club and the Hempstead Bay Yachi Club.

Quinque Leads the Knocksbouts

The first of a series of races for the special onedesign knocks bouts of the Marine and Field Club, was sailed yesterday off the clubhouse at Bath Beach. Four boats-the pick of the club's fleet-started. were the Quinque, L. H. Smith and Hilliard; Kelpie, W. K. Brown; Flying Pox. G. L. Buckmann and Andrew Cone. and Vixen, W. K. Buckmann and Andrew Cone, and Vixen, W. K. Baylor and Mahoney. The course was triangular, three miles in extent, a mile to each leg. They covered the route three times. The wind was southeasterly and fairly strong, filling the sails well. The first leg was a brat, the second a run and the third a broad reach. The Fying Fox was the first boat over the line in a very close start; the Quinque came next, Kelple third and Vixen fourth. On the first I g the Quinque overhauled the Flying Fox and held the lead all the way. The Vixen lost a man overboard on the third round and was compeiled to withdraw to save him. Three points were awarded to first; 2 to second and 1 to each boat that completed the course.

Bayswater Yacht Club Regatta.

FAR ROCKAWAY, July 21. - The special regatta of the Bayswater Yacht Club was sailed over the club's course on Jamaica Bay to day. The wind freshened as the boats progressed through the race and some ane sport was enjoyed. The flagship, Elsa, Commo-Dohse, met with a mishap and lost the race through Dobse, met with a mishap and lost the race through her throat halyards parting while she was far in the lead. The course for the sloops and catboats was ten miles, the boats covering it twice, and for the sharples five miles, the little fellows going over the route once. The finishes were all close and exciting, the Ella A. winning fn the sloop class by 25 seconds, the Mattie in the first-class catboat class by 5 minutes 24 seconds, and the Meta in the second-class catboat class. The sharple race prize was won by the Avocet, but the race will be resalted on a formal decision of the protest filed by Harry I. North of the Regatta Committee.

Yacht Racing at Bay Shore.

BAY SHORE, July 21 .- The first of a series of races for yachts in classes T and V were sailed to-day, The yachts sailed over a triangular course twelve The yachts salled over a triangular course twelve miles in length. It was a beat to the first mark, a reach to the second and a run home in a nice whole sail breeze. Fast time was made. The yacats of class T are competing for a cup given by Commodore J. Adolph Mollenhauer, which is called a champion-ship cup, and the class V boats are racing for a champion-ship and a cup given by Rear Commodore Eugene Lentilhon. In class T the Wanda, owned by John Suydam, beat the Dorothy, owned by Terry Southard, 5 minutes 7 seconds corrected time. In class V. C. H. Southard's Little Minister beat H. T. Peter's Peggy 24 seconds. Joseph Lawrence's Mollie was third.

Wyntje Defeated by Bee and Bobs.

OYSTER BAY, July 21 .- There was a big surprise here to-day in the fourth of the series of races for the Center Island cup between the raceabouts of the Center Island cup between the raceabouts of the Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yaght Club. The wind blew Ialrly strong. The course was the inside route, the distance being arout eight and a half nautical miles. The cane; knockabout Wyntje, which had led in the series of events for the Center Island cup up to date, was defeated. Two bats finished ahead of ner, the crack Bee, which has hitherto had the honor of being the runner up, coming over the line a winner, while W. A. W. Stewart's Bobs also 'finished in the money,' getting second place in the race.

The annual open regatta of the Bayswater Yacht Club was sailed on the easterly section of Jamaica Bay on Thursday. The course gave a run to the first mark and a beat home. The wind was southwest. Mark and a leav nome. The wind was southwest.

After the race the sharple Avocet was disqualified for fouling the buoy. H. I. North, the owner of the Pirate, the second boat to finish, rejused to accept a prize he did not win and the race will be resalted.

The Ella A., owned by M. Stark, beat the Robin and Truant in the class for sloops. J. McNamara's Mattie beat the Minnehaha, Madeline and Flsa in the first class of catboats. C. J. Thornton's Meta beat the Coquette in the second class for catboats.

McIntosh a Great Shot, Says Murphy.

Edgar Gibbs Murphy, the well-known wing shot, who has been shooting at various con-tests in different parts of Europe, principally in France, got home on the Lucania yesterday. Mr Murphy said that he had had a very pleasant Mr Murphy said that he had had a very pleasant trip and that he had participated in some interesting contests during his staly abroad. McIntosh of Australia, he said, was the greatest wing shot that he had ever seen. He had no hesitation in saying that McIntosh is the greatest wing shot in the world to-day. One of the most interesting contests that he took part in, he said, was one in Paris, which was won by McIntosh, and in which he and Marquis Biliocoasco tied for second place. Mr. Murphy expects to do some shooting this fall. He says that he is in good shape ROSEDALES AND FIDELIAS WIN.

Local Teams Capture First Prizes in the Headpin and Strike and Spare Tourneys. Practically all interest in the United Bowling Clubs' international tournament ceased when the final games in the intercity series were played on Friday night. Schuetzen Park, Union Hill, was deserted yesterday, only a few bowlers being in the park in addition to the members of the teams which took part in the strike and spare and headpin tournaments Yesterday was known as "Wheelmen's Day," but not a single bicycle was there and the proposed races did not materialize. As little bowling was going on the few per ons who did make the journey from this city did not inger for any length of time. not finding anything of interest going on to while away the time. Even the women bowlers who were more anxious to attack the pins than the men, decided to stay away; consequently ing of the players in the individual competi Interest in the various competitions would undoubtedly have continued until the end of the festival had the intercity series been arranged differently. Instead of having each team roll one series of three games, total pins to count, and ending the contest on Friday, the nine teams should have played one game against each other, which would have prolonged the tourney until the final evening of the festival. The committee realized their mistake yesterday, but it was too late to rectify it. It is expected that there will be more people in attendance to-day, as in addition to the individual tournament, several matches will be rolled between the leading Eastern and there was no change of importance in the stand

Western bowlers. Presentation of prizes will take place to-night.

The Executive Committee of the American Bowling Congress met at Schuetzen Park and laid plans for their next annual meeting which will be held in Chicago on Jan. 8, 9 and 10. It was arranged to hold a tournament beginning Jan. 6 and ending Jan. 13, in which teams of two and five men will compete, in addition to an individual contest.

Shortly before 8 o'clock last night there was a loud clap of thunder followed by bright flashes of lightning. With one accord the arc lights went out, leaving the alleys in total darkness. The rain came down in torrents, and in a few minutes streams of water came through the roof. Four of the alleys were soon covered by several inches of water, and palls and washtubs were put in use. After a wait of ten minutes the alleys were lighted again and the bowling was continued on the Gry alleys, while the idle to how your put to work sweeping, the water roof. Four of the alleys were soon covered by several inches of water, and pails and washtubs were put in use. After a wait of ten minutes the alleys were lighted again and the bowling was continued on the cry alleys, while the idle pin boys were put to work sweeping the water out of the enclosure.

Until a late hour on Friday night the Imperial club bowlers of Brooklyn held the lead in the strike-and-spare tournament, with a score of 889. Numerous local and out-of-town teams tried to pass this total, only to fail when they were on the road to reach the much-sought-for 9 0 mark. The Fidelias were the fortunate team to take the lead away from the Imperials, but they failed to tally 900 pins, acking two pins of that total. The schedule of this series had been so far completed that only five teams were slated to play yesterday and only one of these was considered dangerous as a probable winner of the first prize. The Emrires seemed to be a strong combination, with Linden, Shiman, Schmitt. Howell and Williamson to represent the organization. After their good showing in the headpin tourney the friends of the Empires were hopeful that their favorites would be likely to do as well, if not better, in the strike-and-spare game. With the exception o Linden and Williamson, the team proved a disappointment, as the best the Empires could to was to score 841, placing them in eighth place. The high individual record in this tourney previously held by Brill was broken by Williamson, who scored 224, two more pins than were credited to the Chicago man. Fighteen teams tailed 800 or more pins as follows:

Fidelia of New York, 889; Imperial of Brooklyn, 889; Carteret of Jersey City, 873; Columbus Stars of Columbus, 842; Empire of New York, 841; Washington of Chicago, 829; Twenty sixth Ward of Brooklyn, 889; Carteret of Jersey City, 873; Columbus W. C. of Columbus, 840; Empire of New York, 841; The school of 161, playing. That the crack bowlers should have been more accurate in hitting the headpin than making strikes and spares was for the headpin bowlers, the tourney winding upin a tame manner with the exception of the Empire's game. Capt. Howells's aggregation tapped the headpins for a total of 475, just enough pins to capture the third prize. The second best score of the day, 445, was tallied by the Grove Hills. The following teams scored over 400 pins:

Rosedales of New York, 507; Orchards Team No. 1, of New York, 49: Empire Team No. 1, of New York, 475; Lotus Team No. 1, of New York, 472; East New York of Brooklyn, 471; Columbus Stars of Columbus, 471; Carteret of Jersey City, 470; Washington of Chicago, 467; Otto Haas of Union Hill, 467; Spartan Team No. 1, of New York, 485; Monarch Team No. 1, of Brooklyn, 453; Greater Cincinnati of Cincinnati, 452; Fidelia Team No. 1, of New York, 445; Grove Hill Team No. 1, of New York, 445; Grove Hill Team No. 1, of New York, 445; Grove Hill Team No. 1, of New York, 445; Grove Hill Team No. 1, of New York, 445; Oriental Team No. 1 of New York, 429; Twenty-sixth Ward of Brooklyn, 420; Williamsburg Platt-deutsche of Brooklyn, 420; Grove Hillson of New York, 441; Cyclone Team No. 1 of New York, 435; Hudson of New York, 441; Cyclone Team No. 1 of New York, 435; Hudson of New York, 441; Midson of New Y

Mitchell of the Orientals scored 115 out of a possible 120 and wins the gold medal at stake in the headpin tournament.

Chance That an English Team Will Visit This Country. Poxhall P. Keene arrived from England on the Lucania yesterday. He said that there was a good prospect that a team of English poloists would come to this country in the fall to play at Newport, Boston and about New York, with, very likely, one or more contests for a special cup at Prospect Park. Nothing definite had been decided when Mr. Keene left England, but he expects a cable to-morrow containing the decision. "In challenging for the international cup at Hurlingham, with the Messrs. McCreary and Mr. Macky, which John Watson's team won at Newport in 1886," said Mr. Keene. "we did not expect to win and only wanted to make a showing good enough to warrent other challenges from this country. At the Hurlingham Club dinner after the match the project of a visit here of an English team was brought up and received with the utmost enthusiasm. Should the team come it will be made up of A. Rawlin-

the team come it will be made up of A. Rawneson, No. 1; F. M. Feakes, No. 2; W. S. Buckmaster, No. 3, and Captain the Hon. J. G. Beresford, back.

"They are four of the best players in England, and should they come will ask nothing better than a succession of hard-fought matches. They all have splendid mounts, and the fear that some harm might have per to the ponies is that some harm might have per to the ponies is that some harm might had pen to the p the chief of stacle against the visit. The are worth from $3,500 to $5,000 each, but the chief of stacle against the visit. The ponies are worth from $3,500 to $5,000 each, but no insurance money would make up for the loss of one, for the perfectly trained ponies are held priceless by their owners. Should they come they will have a splendid time. The expenses of the trip will be very heavy, although the Polo Association will pay nearly a lithe expenses of the men and their ponies, just as the Hurlingham Club would do should we send over a representative team. The team would play under the Polo Association rules, which chiefly differ from the English rules in that hooking mallets is permitted, and also off-side play.

Polo was never more popular, than it is now in Great Britain. The class of the players is very high, too, for the war only took away two of the top-notch men. At Parls, besides playing on the American team, I was on the team that won the international championship at the World's Fair. F. J. Macky was No. I. A. Rawlinson No. 2, I was No. 3 and Dennis Daly was back. The team we beat was made up of Messrs. Buckmaster, Freake, Walter McCreary and De Mandre. I left ten ponies at Hurlingham, whice, unless the English team comes over, will be sent to Melton Mobray until I go back next spring. I have some ponies here, but nardly expect to p'ay any, except possibly in a match or two at Newport."

Casper Leon and Clarence Forbes to Fight at Coney Island. Alee Brown, matchmaker of the Seaside Sporting Club, has clinched a match between Casper Leon and Clarence Forbes of Chicago.

The encounter, which will be decided at 112 pounds, will be held on Tuesday night. Leon, since his defeat by McGovern, has not been doing much fighting of late. He is in good condition, however. Morses, Carringes, &c.
